She is coming again in 2021 with a solo recital Still Life. Music without borders, create a space of inner freedom where anything is possible. Adriana reported for our early music fans: Hokkaido 2018. The magics of Hokkaido (Japan). Creating music together with Hisao Suginaka and Yuko Sarya. Thanks to a mysterious meeting in Barcelona with several musicians, I got the invitation by Soubugen, a group of Japanese traditional music, to make a tour around Hokkaido. The gut strings of the violin blended perfectly with the silk strings of the shamisen (Japanese traditional instrument) and the Nihon Buyou dance of the Asian culture. We created a project that put together baroque style, improvisation, and Japanese traditional music. We got a lot of success around the island and in Tokyo as well. #musicians #artist #music #earlymusic #violin

Adriana reported for our early music fans: Portugal 2016. Concerts with Ludovice Ensemble in Lisbon (Portugal). After many years playing together in Den Haag with Miguel Jalôto, I got the invitation to play on his marvellous group: a wonderful baroque orchestra with the best Portuguese singers. Our Iberian spirit put us together, enjoying the best music by Johann Sebastian Bach and Portuguese composers. A really charming city and charming people. An unforgettable food and cod fish... #musicians #artist #music #festival #earlymusic #violin

Adriana reported for our early music fans: Mataró 2016. Concert with Follia Project in Mataró (Barcelona). First presentation of Baroque style and Free Improvisation fusion with Follia Project. During 2 years I was a citizen of Mataró, the cultural department of the city got to know me and they offered us, Frances Bartlett and me, that created Follia Project to play for the Music Festival of the town. For our surprise, the people loved the combination between pure baroque music with our free style improvisations, with a completely contemporary style. #musicians #artist #music #earlymusic #violin

Mataró 2016. Enjoying the free time before the concert for Mataró Music Festival with Follia Project. Adriana Alcaide with Follia Project, preparing the opening of the baroque chapel in Santa Maria Church from Mataró (Barcelona). A small chapel withing the big Santa Maria church took long time to restore it. The day of the opening was completely full of the citizens of Mataró and we got recorded by Catalunya Radio and the Catalan TV.

Mataró 2016. Connecting with the pureness of the Mediterranean Sea in order to get inspired for new free improvisations with Follia Project. Fresh inspiration of the Mediterranean Sea for the opening of the baroque chapel in Santa Maria Church from Mataró (Barcelona). This was the real seed for my future project "A drop in the Ocean", my solo performance directed by Maria Stoyanova.

Barcelona 2017. Bach Cantatas in the gothic area from Barcelona, the old town. Leading Bach Cantatas with Bach zum Mitsingen in Barcelona, one per voice, a real soloist approach to Bach religious music. I had the pleasure to work together with Carine Tinney, a wonderful Scottish soprano, with a really angelical voice.

Barcelona 2017. Bach Weihnachtsoratorium in Barcelona with the Orquestra Barroca Catalana in Palau de la Musica de Barcelona. The incredible Art Nouveau of the building welcomes every musician and all the audience. With some dry acoustics, the beauty of the place is a real inspiration to play such a magnificent music for Christmas, as well as to enjoy is as the audience.

Olot 2019. Preparing the performance » A drop in the Ocean«, created and performed by Adriana Alcaide and directed by Maria Stoyanova. A very deep physical, mental and emotional training to create a personal work, based on autobiographical material, using performative language, life music played and sung by me and some acting. A space where I cannot hide myself, showing all my vulnerability and nudity of my soul.

Barcelona 2020. Preparing the family show »Gulliver's Travels« together with Maria Roca for the concert in Museu de la Música de Barcelona. Adapted, performed, and directed by Adriana Alcaide.

Inspired by the Gulliver Suite, written for two violins by Georg Philipp Telemann, I created a play specially for children that depicts the travels of Gulliver. With music by Telemann, Léclair and some Bartok for moments of ambience. I got surprised by the similarity of the lives of Telemann and the role of Gulliver, twin souls. And at the same time, the biography, the stories, and the feelings of the main role, are extremely close to my own experiences. Fractals in music.

Barcelona 2020. Going back to our own childhood with »Gulliver's Travels« together with Maria Roca for the concert in Museu de la Música de Barcelona. Adapted, performed, and directed by Adriana Alcaide. Remembering the power of the game, the freshness of acting and becoming another role inside oneself.

Vic (Catalonia) 2020. Concert together with Adolfo Osta in the middle of the COVID pandemia. An oasis with music and a really special church with wonderful acoustics. The audience with masks, recorded by the TV.
